

A Single Platform For All Your Document Needs

Pydio Cells is a self-hosted document platform that gives your IT team complete control of your document sharing, collaboration and management environment.

With advanced Identity and Access Management, easy-to-build custom automations and low training and maintenance requirements, Cells gives your teams the tools they need to work and collaborate seamlessly. Doing the work of multiple platforms, Cells unifies all your document management and usage in a single pane of glass.

Is Pydio Right For Your Organization?

There are lots of great document sharing and collaboration solutions out there. But If you answer yes to any or all of these questions, Pydio is right for your organization:

- ✓ Do you need complete control of your document sharing?
- ✓ Do you need to share securely?
- ✓ Are you suffering from “platform creep,” with multiple overlapping platforms driving cost and inefficiency?
- ✓ Are shared cloud-based solutions off-limits due to compliance issues?
- ✓ Do you need a solution that enables high performance and provides fast ROI?
